Consurf Launches Non-Profit Ride-Share and Room-Share Website for Furry Conventions

Media information | For immediate release | 14-Jan-2026

A new community-driven platform called Consurf has officially launched after its public beta, aiming to help members of the furry fandom connect for ride-shares and room-shares when attending furry conventions.

Created by Nuki (https://bsky.app/profile/nuki.vip), long-time member of the fandom, with the help of his husband, friends and endorsed by reputable groups like the Furry Writers Guild and Canadian Furries Coast to Coast (C2C). Consurf was inspired by the late site ConRoomies, which once served a similar purpose. The goal help furries coordinate travel to conventions and hotel room sharing. It is especially useful after hotel lotteries are over and convention-goers must scramble to fill or find their rooms.

It has added new features to this established formula, specific to the furry fandom, aiming to help furries vet who they'd be traveling with, based on how long that person has been in the fandom and a look at their fursona's presence.

Key features of Consurf include:

- Convention listings: Anyone can add upcoming conventions to the site using a previously-curated list containing all active conventions to this date. If your convention is not there, you can add it publicly and permanently!

- Requests: Anyone can post an offer or request a ride or a place to stay at a furry convention, making it easy. No more searching through old chat history, or having your request vanish unnoticed in busy con chats.

- Private Messaging: Users can connect directly through the site to discuss details before deciding to move to Telegram, Discord, or other apps. A vibe check is convenient, built right into the site. No vibes? You can close the conversation and move on.

- Bluesky login: Login only using your Bluesky, simple and easy, and will prefill your profile and you are ready to go. No username and password needed!

- Personal convention history: Mark conventions you've attended and those you plan to go. Maybe you don't need a room right now, but you can look back at your profile and see how much fun you have had so far. It's a fun way to keep track of the fur cons you've been to. Attend enough conventions and you unlock badges for bragging rights.

- User verification: You can check people's profiles to see how old their Bluesky account is, check out their feed, and avoid scammers (or someone with incompatible hyperfixations). More checks and account integrations will launch soon!

- Record furry history: You can add info to all furry cons in the past and future to help Consurf be a good historical database for the fandom! Out of the box, you have over 2,000 conventions dating as far back as ConFurence in 1989!

- No private info: No credit cards. No legal names. Nothing to get stolen or leaked. Consurf keeps you anonymous while you're on the site and retains no private info about users.

As a nice closing note, Consurf has its own mascot: Marlo. You will find him greeting you on their home page. Art by Heat Zone (https://linktr.ee/heatzone).
